

THE WORLD.

Published by the Press Publishing Company.

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 8.

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION (Including Postage). PER MONTH, $6.00; PER YEAR, $65.00.

VOL. 28.....NO. 9,789

Entered at the Post-Office at New York as second-class mail matter.

THE 1888 RECORD!

New York, April 30, 1888.

We, the undersigned Advertising Agents, have examined the Circulation and Press Room Reports of THE WORLD, and also the amounts of White Paper furnished it by various paper manufacturers, and find that the Average No. of WORLDS Printed Daily from Jan. 1, 1888, to date is as stated, viz.:

288,970 COPIES.

(Signed)
Geo. P. Rowell & Co., DANCY & Co.,
J. H. Bates, GORDON & HULL,
E. N. Knicker, Jno. F. Phillips & Co.,
M. H. Kneeland, A. A. Anderson.

Circulation Books Always Open.

GOOD FEELING.

The Democrats are happy over the result at St. Louis, the Mugwumps are satisfied and the Republicans are delighted.

It is apparently an era of good feeling all around.

This is much better than sore-headism, chronic kicking and campaign cholera cramps.

Let us hope that the Republican Convention will be equally successful in satisfying everybody. It will then be a comfortable summer.

SHAM INSPECTION.

The stories told at the meeting of the Workingwomen's Society last night show that of all the inspections that do not inspect those made under the Factory law are about the biggest shams.

Children under age are regularly worked like little slaves. Stairways and hatchways are unprotected. In many places no fire-escapes are provided. Washing and retiring rooms are shamefully inadequate. There is no protection for young girls. Some of the inspectors, it is plainly intimated, do not see what they are paid not to see. Their number is insufficient, even if they were capable and honest.

The women are right. A concerted effort to expose the abuses will do the most good. There is no reforming influence like a focused public opinion.

TALLY HO!

Good wishes will attend Mr. BLAINE on his coaching trip through Scotland.

Now that he is out of politics, as a candidate, the Maine leader can be permitted to enjoy his good health unquestioned. No rival candidate will be interested in having the coach tip over. The glorious June weather is enough to make any sensible man who loves outdoor life declare that he would rather go a-fishing than be President.

No doubt Mr. BLAINE will find it much more enjoyable to go coaching than to be a candidate.

Mr. CANNON's generosity is princely, but it is too bad that his workmen had to submit to a cut in wages during his lordly holiday.

PROMOTING HAPPINESS.

Mrs. CONKLING, the Principal of Grammar School No. 1, is right. "Good cooking tends to promote happiness in our homes."

It is of far more advantage to a girl to know how to make a strawberry shortcake that is at once attractive, toothsome and easily digested, than to be able to tell the height of the mountains in South America and the length of the rivers in Africa.

Good cooking is the basis of good health, and good health is the blessing that makes all other blessings enjoyable. The public schools are doing a great work in teaching the girls how to cook and sew and the boys how to use their hands, their eyes and their judgments.

The workmen, like other citizens, are pretty nearly unanimous in the opinion that CHAUNCEY DEPEW is a mighty clever fellow, but are divided in judgment as to his strength as a Presidential candidate. The EVENING WORLD gives to-day a large number of condensed interviews on the subject that will prove interesting to the politicians.

Judge THURMAN comes up to the mark smiling, and observes that "GLADSTONE is several years older than I am." Yes, and look at VON MOLTKE and BISMARCK. Why should we let the Old World have a monopoly in veterans?

Alas! It is an unequal contest for "Fighting PAUL." Death does not give a man half a chance.

The red bandanna will wipe them out.

The Misses Warburg's Reception.

A reception was given by the Misses Emma and Belle Warburg on Saturday evening at their new residence, 304 East One Hundred and Twenty-second street. During the evening the company was entertained by Miss Nettie Machol and Carrie Marks of New Haven, Conn.; Miss Daisy Epstein, of Philadelphia; Miss Mattie and Rose Stuppel, of Brooklyn; Mr. Harry Gray of Leroy, N. Y.; Mr. Frank Levin, of Manhattan; and Mr. Fred Kaufman, of the Misses Kaufman, Miss Edith Hart, Miss Annetta H. Tooty, Miss Mattie and Rose Landau and many others.

The Thackeray and Antislavery societies were well represented.

One of those bright, witty, catchy, sparkling, popular songs for which M. H. Rosenfeld is noted will be printed in Sunday's World. It is called "Wide Awake's Wig." Look out for it!

FISH, FRUIT AND VEGETABLES.

Lettuce, 5 cents.
Picketail, 10 cents.
Brook trout, 10 cents.
Salmon trout, 10 cents.
Striped bass, 10 cents.
Apricots, 10 cents a box.
Shad roe, 10 cents a pair.
Asparagus, 10 and 15 cents.
Tomatoes, 10 cents a quart.
Lemons, 10 cents a quart.
Spinach, 10 cents a half peck.
Green turtle, 15 and 20 cents.
Pineapples, 15 to 20 cents each.
Blood oranges, 40 cents a dozen.
Green peas, 20 cents a half peck.
Georgia peaches, 50 cents a dozen.
Boston marrow squash, 30 to 40 cents.
Best American cheese, 12 cents a pound.

A number of large garfish, weighing about fifteen pounds each, were to be seen on the principal fish stand in Fulton market this morning.

MEN IN FULTON MARKET.

Henry Thompson is growing old, but he maintains his good nature.
Louis Henn, of Walling & Henn, now wears two beautiful diamonds.
The smiling countenance of "Sam" McFarland is always on exhibition.
Michael Ryan wears a very broad smile nowadays. Recently he became a "papa."
James Bowditch, alias "Old Crabs," takes a walk through the market every morning.
The Smith family is well represented—father and son, fruit dealers; father and son, poultry.
S. L. M. Barlow is frequently seen buying fruit. He goes through the market three times a week.

PERSONAL AND SPICY.

IF J. Brennan, the Bowery hotel proprietor, is said by his friends to be a quiet way of anything his purse when anybody is in trouble.

Young Alva Brown, the wholesale millinery salesman, is quite clever in the magic art. He is always on hand at the entertainments of the well-known wipers.

"Bob" Young of the Nicaragua Company, although a native of Scotland, is a thorough American in all his ideas and in argument always stands up for the Stars and Stripes.

"Late" Isaac, of Washington Market, starts for his first job next morning. He has a big book for his "clients" and those who are lucky enough to be with his party will have one good time this summer.

Fred Ricketts, the engineer, now located in the Eagle Building in Wall street, is a regular "old timer." He has been all over the country, and even if he was a "blockade runner" during the war he was a good one.

WITH THE J. F. REILLY CLUB.

Mark Thomas, the club's chaplain.

Mike Hogan, the silver-tongued orator.

The two dromedaries, Joe Hanley and J. Shanley.

Tom Logan, the old man eloquent of the club.

Ex-Alderman Adolph Hamman, the land-league.

Tom Egan, the west-side champion of Prohibition.

Officer James Donnelly, one of the finest of the "finest."

Ben Egan, who will carry a large amount of adipose tissue.

Charlie Kelly, the good-looking sergeant of the Ninth Regiment.

Frank Conroy, "the beautiful fellow," who goes because it is a stag.

Alexander Adams, who knows a thing or two about steaks, chops, &c.

Plumber Ed Newman, who is credited with being the richest member.

Billy Kennedy, the funny man, who will carry some bromide with him.

The James P. Reilly Pleasure Club will go on an excursion July 17. Among those who will be there are:

WORLDLINGS.

Senator Fair, despite the reverses he has met with in recent years, is estimated to have a fortune of $50,000,000 left.

There are twenty men in Denver who have fortunes of $1,000,000 or more, and over fifty who are worth half a million each.

It is said that a tavern in Sweden bears the sign, "English and American spoken here." Some Englishmen say there is more truth than poetry in the notice.

Senator Brown, of Georgia, has two sons who, unlike most sons of statesmen, are bright and thrifty young fellows. One of them, the eldest, is a railroad president and a man of culture and athletic tastes.

Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, the author, is forty-four years old. Her first literary venture was a story written when she was thirteen and published in the Youth's Companion. The best known of her books, "Gates Ajar," she began in 1864.

Miss Kittie Wilkins, the celebrated "Horse Queen," of Brunau, Idaho, is a tall blonde of graceful figure and prepossessing appearance. She is cultivated in mind and manners, and talks well and with animation on almost any topic.

A young girl who eloped with the man of her choice from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., the other day, was aware enough to induce him to assign all his property over to her before she would consent to the elopement. The property is valued at $5,000.

A rare avis, in the shape of an intoxicated Chinaman, was seen on Broadway last Sunday night. He stalked along, singing a Chinese song at the top of his lungs. A few feet ahead of him was a companion, who looked ashamed at his countryman's conduct.

Ned Stallings, while hunting in Buffalo Gap, Tex., fell asleep under a tree. His companion took advantage of the nap to drop a horse load on Stallings's face, which so enraged the latter that he blazed away at the joker with his Winchester rifle, fortunately missing him.

To a Chicago reporter who was interviewing him a few days ago, Robert Louis Stevenson said: "Don't ask me anything about 'Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.' I'm sick and tired of it. Ask me anything about my other books, but I've heard 'Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde' until it makes me sick."

Two little pigs were walking along the Texas Pacific Railroad track, when a train came along, and as they fed in opposite directions, the train displaced them both at the same time, leaving their heads exactly opposite each other, one pointing east, and the other due west. The owner recovered $50 from the company.

On the "Hash-Knife" ranch, which is located on the Pease River, in New Mexico, Jake Owen, a cowboy, bears an ugly reminder of a rattlesnake's bite, which took effect in the soft flesh between the thumb and first and second fingers to the right, leaving only three useless bones. Notwithstanding this disadvantage, he is one of the most expert lassoers on the river.

The Peculiar

purifying and reviving qualities of Hood's Sarsaparilla are just what are needed to expel disease and fortify the system against the debilitating effects of warm weather. Every year increases the popularity of Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it is just what people need at this season. If you have never tried it, do so, and you will be convinced of its peculiar merit.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by druggists, $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

VIEWS ON DEPEW.

What the Wage-Workers Think and Say About Him.

Great Diversity of Opinion Among Railroad Men.

Interviews Gleaned by "The Evening World" Young Men from Leaders of Labor Organizations and Employees in the Railroad Yards—That Mr. Depew Is the Head of a Great Corporation the Strongest Objection Urged Against Him—His Personal Popularity.

To get for its readers some general idea of the feeling that is entertained by wage-workers for Mr. Chauncey M. Depew as a candidate for the Presidency, THE EVENING WORLD young men have gone among labor leaders and others, and gathered a large number of individual opinions which are spread out below. Many men representing large labor organizations, either as officers or delegates, declined to express their views on the ground that it would not be well for them to do so at present. Enough has been gleaned, however, to make a very interesting story.

Most of the labor men interviewed have a high opinion of Mr. Depew personally, but many of them doubt if he would receive a large labor vote. That he is the head of a big corporation is urged as the greatest objection. It is also set forth that his election as President would hasten the culmination of the battle between labor and capital. Some of the labor leaders think that he would be weak, and some a strong candidate.

THE EVENING WORLD reporters who interviewed the men employed in the yards at the Grand Central Railroad Company, of which Mr. Depew is President, find that they are enthusiastically for him, but many men in the yards of other railroad companies do not share these views.

THE LABOR LEADERS.

Here is what labor leaders say: John J. Bealin, of the Fourteenth Assembly District, organization of the United Labor Party, does not think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency.

Patrick J. Doody, a prominent member of the United Labor Party—I consider one of the old party candidates as good as a Republican. I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency.

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

John Ryan, street-car conductor and member of the County General Committee of the United Labor Party from the Second District of New York City, says: "I don't think Mr. Depew is a fit man for the Presidency. I think he is a fit man for the Presidency."

Depew is just as strong as any one else. In the West he would be beaten unless they put a strong Western man on the ticket. In the East he would be a good chance. I think a good ticket would be Depew and Cleveland.

James Smith says Depew is a good man and he would vote for him if he is nominated.

Matthew Foley, Baggage Department—Depew, if nominated, will be elected. He stands as a Republican in the North and as a Democrat in the South. He is a good man and he will vote for him if he is nominated.

ENTRUSTED NEW HAVEN MEN.

The following employees of the New Haven road were seen in the New York Central yard.

P. Nagle, engineer New Haven road, thinks Depew would stand a good show of being elected if nominated. He will support him.

John Fenion, fireman New Haven road, who is very patriotic over Depew—Cleveland 1892? Well, I would say so. All the boys here like him, and I think he is liked as well outside. If he comes out, I will vote for him, and will do all in my power to further his election.

A. N. Y. N. H. and H. R. M. said the reporter that if Depew is elected he will be a change to vote. He had not studied the question as to which ticket he would vote for this year if he got the chance to vote for a good man.

George Le Roy, fireman on New Haven train—He is right. Candidate could not be a better one. I will vote for him if he is nominated.

James Colburn, fireman, N. Y. N. H. and H. R. M.—I have no thought of Mr. Depew running for the office, but if that is suggested I think he would be elected.

An engineer on the N. Y. N. H. and H. R. M. thinks Depew will be nominated in spite of his letters to the contrary, but if he is Depew will be the man. Without Depew or Depew Republican chances of victory are very slim indeed.

SOME MORE THAN ONE THOUSAND MEN EMPLOYED IN THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD WORKSHOPS AT MEADOWS, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad workshops at Meadows, N. J. THE EVENING WORLD reporter ascertained that at least two-thirds of them were Democrats and would vote for Cleveland.

They are more than one thousand men employed in the Pennsylvania